

A Business Girl.

"Father, I would like to see you in the library on a matter of business."

"Very well, Violet, come along. Now, then, what is it?"

"Father, you are aware that Henry Noodenhammer has been paying me his attentions for the last year?"

"Yes, and I've felt like kicking him. The idea of a Noodenhammer daring to aspire to the hand of a Grafton!"

"He has asked me to be his wife."

"The scoundrel! Why I'll maul the tar out of him."

"What—what! My daughter marry a Noodenhammer working for $15 a week? Never! Go to your room while I seek this base advice—"

"Father, I want to talk straight business with you," she interrupted. "As you are aware, this is the State of Massachusetts."

"Yes."

"Have you seen the vital statistics of the State for the last year?"

"No, of course not. The idea of that Hen Noodenhammer skulking around here after my—"

"Wait! According to the statistics, this State has 87,240 more females than males. There are 236,890 more marriageable girls than can find husbands, to say nothing of 182,321 widows anxious for a No. 2. The number of young men in the State earning over $15 a week and in the market is only 22,107. There are camped on the trail of these young men exactly 220,000 young women and 150,000 widows. Three out of every five children born are girls. Death removes two young men to every married man or old bachelor."

The old man turned pale and grasped a chair for support, and after a pause she continued:

"From June to October, over 80,000 marriageable young women visit our watering places, and it is estimated that 31,442 of them catch husbands, thus further reducing the chances of a resident. Father, take this pencil and figure on your Viola's chances of catching another man if she lets Henry Noodenhammer center away."

"Great Scott!" he gasped, figuring for a moment. "Why, your chances are only one in 21,875,947!"

"Just as I figured it out myself. What shall I say to him this evening?"

"Say? Why, tell him you'll have him and be mighty glad of the chance, and don't let him draw a long breath before you add that the ceremony can take place right after breakfast tomorrow morning, and I'll give you a wedding present of $5,000 in cash."—Boston Post.

—The Confederate Association will shortly issue their annual book, which will be the handsomest ever gotten out by the organization. Among other features it will contain 100 handsome half-tone electrotype of well-known Confederates who were killed in battle or have since died.

—Since Mr. Carroll became chairman of the State central committee, a democratic majority of about 35,000 has about disappeared. That fact should be stated in connection with Mr. Carroll's free silver deliverances.—Louisville Post.

—The woman in Eastern Kentucky who yesterday gave birth to five children is very appropriately named Day. No one can tell what a day may bring forth.—Owensboro Messenger.

—The Emperor of Japan has ratified the peace treaty with China.

Caller—Is your sister in, my little man?

Willie Wise—She said if Mr. Sweet came to tell him she was sick; if Mr. Rush came to say she was not in, and if Mr. Earl came to say she was cut with Mr. Sweet. She said she'd give me a nickel if I got it right. I don't know which you are, mister, but you bet I'm goin' to get the nickel.—Pittsburg Post.

The Queen & Crescent Route will conduct a low rate excursion to Cincinnati and return from all stations, Danyille to Crittendon, under the auspices of the Ladies' Endeavor Society, May 6th. Tickets good going, and returning only on day named. Ask your agent for particulars. Chas. W. Zeli, D. P. A., Cincinnati, Ohio.

To the Democrats of Lincoln County.

I am a candidate to represent Lincoln county in the next Legislature of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party. I stand squarely upon the National Democratic platform. Endorse Cleveland and Carlisle. Am for James B. McCreary for U. S. Senator and in favor of Free Tariff.

Respectfully,

M. F. NORTH.

CHURCH AFFAIRS.

—The Greeks have two places of worship in New York city, where the service is carried on in the Greek tongue.

—The Owenston News says that Rev. Harvey, of the Methodist church, held a revival there, which resulted in 25 additions.

—Rev. Cleveland, the President's preacher brother, has been anointed by the St. Lawrence Presbytery, and thus wins his fight against his parishioners.

—Rev. A. B. Earle, the evangelist, who died in Boston the other day, is said to have brought about 100,000 conversions during the 60 years of his evangelistic work.

—The Rev. L. Hall, pastor of the First Baptist church of Wichita, Kan., being unable to get his pay, has attached the communion set, Bible, hymn books and furniture of the church.

—There will be three Presbyterian General Assemblies held in Pittsburgh in May at the same time—the Presbyterian, the United Presbyterian and the Cumberland Presbyterian.

—The Woman's Foreign Missionary Society of the Methodist Episcopal church has 13 hospitals and dispensaries and ministers to about 50,000 women through its medical missionaries.

—A letter from Rev. A. V. Sizemore says that his labors at Clinton, Tenn., have been rewarded so far with 35 conversions and that he will continue the meeting as long as the interest remains so great.

—A congregational minister in England, the Rev. R. M. Davies, of Oldham, now 80, has just resigned his charge after a pastorate of 52 years. What a long breath of relief that congregation must have drawn!

—Rev. G. W. Winn, a Methodist minister for 55 years, and of Gen. John Morgan's favorite scouts during the war, died at Nashville, aged 76 years. Rather than surrender during Gen. Morgan's raid into Ohio, Dr. Winn swam the Ohio river on horseback.

—Richmond, Va., is the great Baptist city of the world. There are, including all denominations, 88 churches, and 31 of these are Baptist. The entire church membership of the city is about 42,000, and more than 20,000 of these or nearly one-half, are Baptists.

—Here's another man who, like the old woman's husband, could not pray for rain without overdoing the thing. Evangelist Moody prayed for rain at Fort Worth, Texas, Sunday morning and that night while 10,000 people were assembled in the tabernacle singing praise for the prospect of rain, the storm broke with such force that the roof gave way and over 40 were injured, one fatally.

—Mrs. H. D. Gregory, nee Bailey, writes that the ladies of Grayson will edit the May number of the Mountain Evangelist, the proceeds to go to the three churches of that town. Mrs. Gregory will be one of the editors and she asks her friends here to aid a good cause by subscribing to the number, the price of which is but 10 cents. Orders left at this office will be promptly attended to. It will be worth more than the price of the paper to see what an ex-Lincoln county girl can do.

—Rev. J. T. Haisell, the new pastor of the Walnut Flat Cumberland Presbyterian church, preached his first sermon Sunday morning, and Mr. Higgins tells us, created a fine impression both as a man and a preacher. He is a young man without a family and last preached for the church at Martinville, Ind. There are about 75 members of this church and they have been without a pastor since the death of Mr. Caldwell. His regular appointment will be morning and night of each 3d Sunday.

—In the last 10 years the regular Baptists have grown in the United States from 2,507,753 to 3,637,421, and their annual contributions have grown from $8,579,872.46 to $11,672,691.20. The number of our ordained ministers within this time has increased from 16,678 to 27,091; the number of Sunday-school pupils has grown from 792,780 to 1,500,834, which is less than half the number of church members. The value of our church property is now $80,283,034 as against $26,035,959 in 1885. This looks as if the Baptists are getting rich.—Western Recorder.

—Rev. J. N. Hall, field editor of the Baptist Recorder, tells of a sanctification meeting that he attended which "was conducted on the true, primitive, renaissance style. The preaching, praying, singing, anointing, shouting and every thing were on the regular boomer order. It was a sight to see, and a sound to hear. I have seen the like of it in one or two negro meetings, but I have never seen its parallel among white folks. I said in my heart it was no wonder we have 'apostates,' when we have so little common sense, and so much nonsense in what pretends to be religious. It astonishes me that sensible men can have any patience with such travesties on the religion of Jesus Christ. 'Converts' made in such a meeting are no power to a form of Godliness that has no power in it more than the excitement of the occasion, and when that dies away, as it always will, they always lament their only and and seek relief in infidelity."

FARM AND TRADE ITEMS.

—Nelson has won over $20,000 in stakes and purses.

—A. J. Coleman will drive Katar McGregor, trial 2:19, this year.

—John Cash bought in the Wayneburg section a few calves at $15.

—Cattle have reached 6 cents in Cincinnati and are still looking up.

—W. A. Tribble bought of J. T. Hocker for a Lexington party a horse for $100.

—Five thousand horses have been sold in Oregon for slaughter, the meat to be used for food.

—R. D. & E. L. Logan, of Boyle, bought of West End parties a lot of heavy cattle at 4.80.

—J. B. Logan sold 600 bushels of millet seed to Lexington parties at 98 cents.—Jeannine Journal.

—Andy Welch has sold the great racing gelding, Cobweb, to Nathan Strause, of New York for $2,000.

—F. M. Yowell, of the West End, has rented out a good portion of his farm to tobacco raisers at $20 per acre.

—The Woodford Sun reports a man who raised 78,150 pounds of tobacco from 38 acres and sold it for $6,270.

—B. P. Martin, of Rowland, has an 18-months old sow that has had three litters of pigs, 25 in all, in the last year.

—W. E. McAfee has placed his 2-year-old colt, Dr. Palmer, by Lord Russell, in the hands of L. K. Rogers, of Danville, to be trained.

—Although C. J. Hamlin's Nightingale won very few races last year she netted $9,000 to her owner's credit at the end of the season.

—A colt was born in Laurel county the other day with no sign of mouth or nose and had only one eye, which was in the centre of its forehead.

—I will stand two jacks, fine breeders, at my farm two miles from Stanford at $4 and $5 to insure a colt, One is 14 and the other 15 hands high. S. H. Shanks.

—P. W. Green will likely place his gelding, Dr. Allan, by Allandorf, in Al Huchling's hands this season. Dr. Allan is a smooth, speedy goer and has trotted miles in 2:40.

—George Dictator will stand at the low price of $10 this year; Le Grand, saddle stallion, and a No. 1 jack at $8. Considering their breeding, these animals stand mighty low. M. S. Baughman.

—Walker & Hudson sold to Monte Fox, of Danville, two carloads of cattle at five cents. This was about the last lot of cattle in the county, all the others having been sold previously.—Lancaster Record.

—E. L. Davis made the following live stock purchases in Shelby county: 81 sheep at $2.50 per head; car load of stock hogs at $3.75 per cwt.; 350 yearling at 34 cents; 1,000 lambs at 44.—Midway Clipper.

—As April 20 is the average date of the latest killing frosts in this latitude, the farmer and the gardener can now go ahead with considerable confidence that they and the weather are right.—Louisville Times.

—R. D. Bruce and W. L. Withers are selling the best binder and mower in the world. The binder is 300 pounds lighter than any other and saves 150 pounds of draft every time a bundle is tied. Call and see. Of course it is the New Champion.

—The farmers who are troubling about the ravages of the army worm may remember the year 1855 and be hopeful. In that year a plague of army worms ravaged the old Mosaic legend and yet that was a red letter crop year.—Owensboro Inquirer.

—A 715 acre farm near Millersburg, Bourbon county, owned by the late Dinwiddie McKee was sold Tuesday to Deputy Sheriff James McClure, as agent for Miss Louise Eglinton, of Winchester, for $30,700—$15,000 cash, balance in one and two years at six per cent.

—Taylor Watkins, Toney Kennedy & Tatum sold at Tontieville 350 head of cattle to Goldsmith at 5¢. The cattle are to be shipped to-day and will average 1,300. This is the largest cattle sale ever made in this section and at the big price. We understand that the profit in this sale amounts to something like $5,000.—Elizabethtown News.

—Doc Drye, of Hintonville, is getting up a splendid string of horses for the fair this year. Naboth, 2:19, owned by Messrs. J. K. and M. S. Baughman will be one of his roadsters and he ought to be a winner in most any ring. He will also have several young ones by Naboth. Besides a number of young stallions, he will have William L. by Silver King and a four-year-old gelding by Wallace Denmark. He will also show J. B. Cook's three-year-old filly, a full sister to W. A. Tribble's Kate Malloy.

MT. VERNON, ROCKCASTLE COUNTY.

—Pure brown leghorn eggs for hatching 50 cents per setting. Mrs. Hugh Miller.

A Million Friends.

A friend in need is a friend indeed, and not less than one million have found just such a friend in Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. If you have never used this great Cough-Medicine, one trial will convince you that it has wonderful curative powers in all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs. Each bottle is guaranteed to do all that is claimed or money will be refunded. Trial bottles free and $1.00 Penny's drug store. Large bottles 50c and $1.00.

CRAB ORCHARD.

—Jones & Mahan bought two car loads of very nice looking mountain cattle from Williamsburg Wednesday.

—Some young ladies are fortunate to have two beaux, while others have none. With as many girls as we have, there is no occasion for this. We can afford one lady for each gallant gentleman.

—Crab Orchard is still improving. We are now going to have a tobacco factory. Have understood there is a stock company formed and there is talk of it being incorporated at an early day. Lumber for the building is now on the ground.

—Mr. Will Moore came all the way from Knoxville to attend the sanctified meeting at Preachersville. He claims to have received showers of blessing. Numbers of Crab Orchard people have been attending, some through curiosity; others for spiritual benefits.

—Prof. C. C. Cline, of Cincinnati, lectured four nights in Crab Orchard, beginning last Wednesday night. His subject was Romanism. On Sunday he preached quite an interesting sermon on Sanctification as he understands its meaning. He handles his subjects well and thoroughly understands them. He left Sunday afternoon for Brodhead.

—Mr. John Buchanan spent Sunday with his parents. Mr. John R. Brooks and wife, of Harrodsburg, are spending a few days with Mr. Brooks' mother, Mrs. S. E. Brooks, Mrs. H. D. Campbell, who has been visiting her parents, Dr. Pettus and wife, left for Lexington Saturday. After spending a few days there she will go to Ashland to reside. Mr. Honie McClure and wife, of McKinney, spent Sunday with Mrs. Nancy McClure.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

—Mr. Willis Adams, Sr., an old and highly respected citizen, died of pneumonia at Paint Lick. His venerable wife was buried only four days before, having expired from the same disease.

—Mrs. Clara Gibbs Beazley, relict of Elijah Beazley, died Thursday at her home in Garrard. Mrs. Kittie Burnside and Miss Lizzie Beazley, relatives, attended the burial Friday in the Lancaster Cemetery.

—Mrs. Lucy Beazley Johnson, wife of Mr. H. T. Johnson, died at her home in Cincinnati, Sunday, of pneumonia. Mrs. Johnson was a daughter of Col. and Mrs. J. M. Beazley, of this county, and was an excellent Christian lady. Besides a husband, three children, the oldest of whom is 14, are left to feel the want of a loving mother's care. The body was to have been brought to this place last night and to day it will be interred in the Lancaster Cemetery.

OF A LOCAL NATURE.

—The county levy in Anderson is 45¢ cents.

—Sixty men who bought chances on a horse to be shot off were fined $20 each in Laurel for gambling.

—The Richmond postmaster will be permitted to serve out his four-year term, which does not expire till December.

—Samuel M. Phelps, Income Tax Collector, reports 257 income-tax returns in the Eighth district—102 personal and 155 corporations.

—Thomas and Abe Taylor and Green Kavanaugh have been indicted at Richmond for the murder of David Doty, for which William Taylor was hanged last January.

—The Louisville Southern is going to leave Brnigh out in the cold by putting in a "Y" at the old Harrodsburg Junction and running trains through to Junction City.

—Two men and three women, all colored, were arrested near Butler Springs, Ala., Saturday for murdering and cremating Watts Murphy, nephew of ex-Gov. Watts. Sunday morning the posse in charge of the prisoners was attacked by a mob and the five murderers were hanged. One of them confessed, implicating the others.

—A dispatch from Lexington says that a Mrs. Berryman, aged 70, drew a pistol on a policeman when he went to arrest her six-year-old nephew. The policeman arrested her and on the way to jail she told him she had heart trouble and would die if placed in a cell. Her words came true and she dropped dead as she was being locked up.

—A piano belonging to Mrs. Harvey Frock, of Springfield, O., was attached for a debt. Mrs. Frock objected to giving the instrument up and when the constable came for it he found her perched on top of it. She refused to move and the piano was placed in a wagon before she left her lofty seat.

—Two of the most important laws of South Carolina, the dispensary and election laws, have been rendered void till May 2 by an injunction of the circuit court.

—Clarence Vaughan killed County Attorney Foster at Greensburg, the result of an old trouble.

"Will you love me when I'm gone?" asked Mr. Linger of his sweetheart.

"If you'll go soon," replied the faithful girl, with a yawn.

W. P. WALTON.

6 OR 8 PAGES.
EVERY FRIDAY.

After persistently refusing to be interviewed, Senator Blackburn finally succumbed and wrote out in full and at length for the Courier-Journal his position on the currency question, the gist of which is in the following sentences: "I am in favor of the restoration of the silver metal at the ratio of 16 to 1, believing, in the light of an experience that covers a century, such ratio will establish and maintain permanently the parity between the two metals. I believe that we should take this action at the earliest day possible, independent of the policies or views of other nations." The Senator says he is ready to meet his opponents on the stump to argue the question and throws down the gauntlet to them to state as unequivocally as he has, done, their views in the premises. If a man's ability in financial matters are reflected in the management of his private affairs, Senator Blackburn is a prophet without honor anywhere. It is, however, a falling of the human family to talk most of what one knows least and to this is attributable, most likely, the Senator's loquaciousness on the money question. With a cause so just, Gov. McCreary will find no difficulty in downing an appointment with Senator Blackburn's views before any thoughtful audience, even if he be never so eloquent nor so fully loaded with plausible sophistries.

There has just died in the Auburn, N. Y., penitentiary a woman who for 35 years had not seen the light outside the gloomy walls of the prison. In 1860 she was condemned to die for murder, but a kind hearted governor doomed her to a living death by commuting her sentence to imprisonment for life. Think of it, 35 years in a felon's cell, and doomed only to leave it when the last nail has been driven in her rough coffin. To us who enjoy the sunlight of God's beautiful world and feast our eyes on green fields and forests of eternal verdure, the time frequently hangs heavily and we resort to many methods of "killing" it. With her environment and haunted always by her fearful crime, how slowly and drearily those 35 years must have passed to the poor woman, living without hope, the world almost forgotten and by the world forgot. Surely Jane Brooks has fully atoned for her sins in this world and found how hard is the way of the transgressor. Let us hope that a loving Savior will have pity on the poor soul and give her the rest for which she long has sighed.

Chairman John W. Yerkes has called the republican State central committee to meet in Danville, to-day, for the purpose of changing the date of the republican State convention from May 29 to a later date. The G. A. R. meeting at Hopkinsville protested against the date, owing to its conflict with Decoration day and besides Tom Smith is to be hung about that time at Jackson. The bosses recognize that without the old soldiers and the mountain delegates, who would all go to the hanging, of course, the convention at Louisville would be a slim gathering.

The death of James W. Scott and the sale of his controlling interest to H. H. Kohlman in the Chicago Times-Herald and Evening Post, leaves the Windy City without a daily champion of the democratic cause. This state of affairs will not long continue, but judging from the recent election, nearly everybody there has joined the republicans and a democratic paper is no longer a desideratum.

Some of the disgruntled office seekers in Madison have succeeded in inducing a susceptible old farmer named Langford to announce himself for the Legislature on an anti-McCreary platform, but it will be late's labor lost. Gov. McCreary is very near the hearts of the Madison county democracy and the man who opposes him there will stand about as much show as a snow ball in hades.

The convention to nominate a candidate for railroad commissioner in the 3d district has been called to meet at Winchester, June 7th. Mr. Green R. Keller, of the Carlisle Mercury, is the leading candidate and we trust he will be nominated. He is capable and popular and would pull the full democratic strength.

Hon. W. N. Swenney, an able lawyer and politician of Owensboro, died Sunday. He was a candidate for U. S. Senator in 1884 and to him was due almost entirely the election of Senator Blackburn over Cerro Gordo Williams.

In his continual warfare against Gov. McCreary, Editor O'Sullivan, of the Louisville Critic, injures himself in the eyes of all fair minded people and does not hurt the object of his animadversions. The editor evidently has a grievance.

George W. Carlisle, brother of Secretary Carlisle, died at Independence, Kenton county, of cancer of the stomach. He was a lawyer by profession.

The court of appeals is positive on one point, that is that an election on the local option question in a magisterial district affects the towns embraced in it, but it left unadjudicated the further point made by the counsel for applicant of liquor license that the law under which the election was held here in March, 1894, is null and void, because it was unconstitutional passed, like the World's Fair bill. No matter how it is decided, however, it would not affect Stanford, because its last election was under the law passed to remedy the alleged defect.

Col. C. Y. Wilson most vigorously denies the report that he has withdrawn from the race for Commissioner of Agriculture, but he'd just as well withdraw. Col. "Iron Brad Nails," as the New York Sun calls our handsome Ion B. Nail, seems to have the dead wood on the nomination.

AFTER several days of as lovely weather as ever came in April, clouds overcast the sky yesterday and leaked repeatedly in gentle showers, the certain forerunner of bright May flowers.

FAIR, cooler Tuesday.

A Mr. VERNON man dreamed two consecutive nights that John Brown would return from Oklahoma on a certain train. So impressed was he with the belief that the dream would come to pass that he went to the train and mirabile dictu—John didn't come.

MR. G. L. PRESCOTT, of London, England, who with his wife and niece are staying at the Myers House, bought several thousands of acres of timber land in Laurel last week of R. C. Ford, who represented the estate of the late John Jackson. Mr. L. F. Hubble, of Lancaster, engineered the deal.

THE Central Kentucky Medical Association showed its appreciation of the valuable services of its secretary, Dr. Steele Bailey, by presenting him with a fine Smith-Fremier typewriter and cabinet, which cost $140. It is hard to tell which the doctor is prouder of, the compliment or the very useful gift.

FREE LECTURE.—Prof. Venier Voldo, who has a big reputation as a platform orator, will give a free lecture at Walton's Opera House, beginning at 8 o'clock tomorrow, Wednesday night, 24th, on the New Departure in Education. The lecture is under the auspices of the Courier-Journal and the Home-University League. Everybody interested in educational matters are invited with the promise of a literary treat.

HARRODSBURG and Danville merchants, who do not read the papers and think an old card stuck in a back alley is all the advertising necessary, were sharply taken in by a sharper who worked them on the old racket of printing a directory on a placard. He got the money, $2 to $5 each, from them and skipped. A nicely displayed card in a newspaper is worth ten times as much as any other advertisement, but you can't get the most backs to believe it.

A TENT of Macabees was organized Saturday night at Hustonville by J. F. Hocker and W. B. Goode, assisted by Deputy Supreme Commander G. H. Terpany, with 22 members. The following officers were elected and installed: Past Commander, Randall Coffey; Commander, C. K. McClure; Sergeant, W. H. Rout; Chaplain, J. H. Reynolds; Finance Keeper, J. A. Frye; Record Keeper, George Hunn; Master at Arms, W. B. Jones; 1st Guard, Thomas D. Best; 2d Guard, A. L. Green; Sentinel, George Aiken; Picket, J. C. McCormack.

FINE.—Ike and George Shelby for shooting and wounding James F. Moore were fined $25 each at Danville. Commonwealth's Attorney Owsley tells us that he got knocked out in the case of Jason Blackerty for killing John Drye, colored, at Junction City last year. Two grand juries failed to indict him and a third without an order from the court investigated the case and found an indictment. After a jury had been obtained, Blackerty's counsel moved a dismissal for the irregularity stated and the court sustained the motion. Mr. Owsley appealed from the court's decision, however, and will ask the court of appeals to settle the question.

SUCCESSFUL OPERATION.—Dr. Price being detained at Philadelphia in a case before the Surrogate court, the operation he was to perform on Aravilla Smith, had to be performed by Dr. Carpenter, who was assisted by Drs. Peyton, E. J. Brown, of Mt. Vernon, and S. C. Perkins, of Bee Lick, Drs. Ramsey, of London, Black, of Barbourville, Steele, of Nevada, and Dr. O'Bannon being present. The incision was made and a 16-pound fibrous tumor removed. The operation was most successful, the patient rallying quickly and is still doing well.

WE wrote this item to soon. The operation doubtless was scientifically performed, but if success is measured by the result, the heading above does not apply. The woman died at 9 o'clock Sunday, 48 hours after the operation.

You are invited to a free lecture at Walton's Opera House, to-morrow, Wednesday night, at 8 o'clock.

THERE were three colored corpses in town yesterday, Beale Worsham being the other of those mentioned elsewhere.

JUDGE W. R. CARSON received a telegram from his son, Mr. J. T. Carson at Anchorage, Saturday, stating that his wife had just presented him with a fine boy—George Reynolds Carson.

THE case of Marshal Frank Ellis for the murder of Cage Rowsey was continued by the defense yesterday, we learn from Commonwealth's Attorney Owsley, till the next court on account of the absence of two witnesses, alleged to be important.

SUNDAY was a love of a day and the girls with Spring hats were out galore. The churches looked like veritable flower gardens and the minds of the wearers of the variegated colors were, we opine, much more upon the hats than upon the sermons.

JUDGE J. W. ALCOCK went to Lebanon yesterday to assist in the defense of the L. & N. against the 45 indictments there found for alleged discrimination. Should the court sustain the short sighted policy, the coal mining interests of Eastern Kentucky will receive a setback from which it can not soon recover.

KILLED.—Conductor J. W. Anderson, of New Haven, in charge of through freight No. 35, fell from the train in Tunnel No. 8 beyond Livingston Saturday night and had both legs, his shoulder and part of his head cut off. He used to board here with Mr. J. H. Rout, who speaks of him as a most gentlemanly and well-behaved man, who made many friends.

A RABBIT ran into Bro. Walton's office at Stanford a few days ago. Maj. Jim Burnside, who is indisputable authority, says that if the rabbit was the "grave yard" species it will bring good luck, but if only an ordinary, every day hare, some great calamity will befall the editor.—Lancaster Record. As we do not know the one from the other, we shall have to wait with patience and tell by the result.

101.—There died here Sunday a negro woman whose age is authentically stated at over 100 years. She belonged to Mr. Henry Baughman, the grand-father of Mr. S. H. Shanks and at his age 50 years or more ago, she was too old for sale or service and was permitted to choose her home and live without work. She was active to the last and frequently attended and took part in the meetings at the Baptist church, of which she was a member.

WHILE returning from fishing Saturday afternoon, Fields Salter and Charles Baughman, two colored boys aged about 13 years each, got into a quarrel over the ownership of a string of fish, when Salter pulled a 32 calibre pistol and shot Baughman in the right cheek, the ball coming out behind his right ear, inflicting a serious wound. Fields has skipped; his friends say, however, that the shooting was accidental and that they were scuffling when the pistol fired.

THE examining trial of George Petrey and Joseph Durham for the murder of Leonz Abt began Saturday and is still before the court. A great many witnesses were introduced, but the majority of them knew nothing more than that the old man was dead. Hons. W. H. Miller and Harvey Helm assisted J. B. Paxton in the prosecution, while P. M. McRoberts held a lone hand for the defense. At the conclusion of the Commonwealth's testimony Mr. McR. moved to discharge the prisoners, but after argument the judge decided to hear their proof and the case was not finished last night.

SAVED BY A DOG.—Generally speaking a dog is a very useless piece of property, especially in town, but Mr. J. C. Florence thinks he owes his house to his little canine. About 3 o'clock Sunday morning the dog ran up the steps leading to Mr. Florence's room and barked loudly and long. He got up and drove him away, but the little animal was not to be thwarted that way, and came again barking louder than ever. Mr. Florence then went down to see what was the matter, and found a box of saw dust against the house in a light blaze. Somebody had thrown a cigar stump in it and but for the timely warning by the dog, the house might have been laid in ashes.

MUST CLOSE.—The court of appeals decides in the case of G. B. Cooper, county clerk, vs. T. L. Shelton, on an appeal from Judge Sausley's decision that the trustees of towns of the class of Rowland, 6th, have the exclusive control of the liquor traffic within them, that their authority only extends when the same can be done without repealing the local option law as to such towns, and that after a vote in a magisterial district, which includes the town, has resulted against the sale of liquor, they have no power to grant license therein. The court also decides that it was an error to award a mandamus compelling the county clerk to issue the license on the authority of the council. The decision will have the effect of closing the bar rooms at Rowland and other places similarly situated. Judge Shelton has already closed his saloon at Rowland, his license having expired, and Mr. Green will have to do so, when he is officially notified.

LOUVA, THE PAUPER.—Everybody who attended the entertainment given by the Stanford Opera Company at Walton's Opera House, Friday night, and it seems by the well-filled house that most everybody did, was surprised and delighted at the excellence with which each member acquitted himself and it was manifested not only by applause, but by the most complimentary remarks. The play is of the usual order of dramas in which the good are rewarded and the bad punished, and contains many situations requiring fine acting.

The leading role of Louva was presented by Miss Ethyl Beazley, and her conception and rendition of the rather difficult part won her very high praise. Few girls can appear in garments all tattered and torn and look as pretty as she did.

Miss Georgia Wray's handsome face and figure admirably fitted her for the character of Aggie Farnham, the heiress, and she not only acted it beautifully, but looked beautifully. As Mrs. Craft, Miss Mary Bruce did some fine acting, and although handicapped by a hideous "make-up" her pretty face shone resplendent.

Miss Lizzie Menefee, the Gipsy fortune teller, was on the stage but a brief moment, but enough to show what she could do had her part been more extensive. The genteel, handsome villain as portrayed by Mr. B. H. Danks in the character of Dick Langley, was superbly given and was additional proof of the gentleman's decided histrionic ability.

Mr. George B. Wearon was a modest hero and a tender lover and in both characters distinguished himself. Col. Farnham, the rich old squire, was well presented by Mr. J. L. Beazley, who looked his part to perfection. Mr. James Beazley was a typical old hayseed and in his droll way scored some fine points. Though he essayed a very thankless and unenviable part, Mr. J. M. Alverson as Bub Craft won many handsome compliments, which his splendid acting fully deserved.

Mr. R. M. Newland made a fine looking Mr. Withgou; Mr. James H. Burton a very funny Toney and Ernest Warren a clever Crankey, while Mr. Sam W. Menefee presented an old negro woman character with a truthfulness to life that stamped his genius. His make up as well as that of several others was an almost complete disguise. We had almost forgotten to mention Mr. M. W. Tyree's Peleg Pucker, one of the best sustained characters in the play. He was an ideal Yankee peddler and never lost an opportunity to present the "finest goods South of Mason and Dixon's line."

The time between the acts was enlivened by excellent music furnished by Deckelmann's Orchestra, which was pronounced by judges to have been as fine as ever heard in the hall. A solo by Miss Annie Hays, "The Nightingale," was also a pleasing contribution to the evening's entertainment. She has a sweet voice and her effort was roundly applauded. Mrs. A. G. Hoffman also sang and gave "The Answer" in a most delightful manner, to an accompaniment by Miss Nora Moreland and a violin obligato by Mr. J. L. Deckelmann. It so pleased the audience that Mrs. Hoffman had to respond to a prolonged encore when she sang the "Cradle Song" equally as acceptably.

As in Damon and Pythias, Miss Mattie Paxton and Mr. John J. McRoberts rendered the company invaluable assistance and the members are unfeignedly grateful to them. They attended the rehearsals and made suggestions and improvements, which added greatly to the smoothness, with which everything was presented.

The company will present the play at Lancaster in the court house to-night and we bespeak for it a full house, assuring the good people of that pleasant little city that they will be well repaid for their time and money, by seeing a nice little drama presented almost with the excellence of professionals.

MRS. A. A. MCKINNEY.

D. S. CARPENTER, Hustonville, Ky.,

Has more nice Furniture than was ever in Hustonville. More pretty Huggies, Surreys and Phaetons. More good Cultivators, Wagons, Plows and more nice Harness, Bridles, Whips and more Bladder Twine than was ever seen here. He invites the public to call and see his stock and get prices. Sam Logan, Repairer and Builder of harness, is in my house and would be glad to have his friends call on him when wanting work done.
